How have you navigated obstacles to achieve success in your career: The challenge of learning the “business” of my business has been more exciting and educational than anything I do with a camera. A combination of hard work; focus like a laser beam vs. a flashlight (mantra from my trusted coach); endless passion for what my clients do and how I can help them; persistence; and a highly creative approach to problem solving. In addition, a group of coaches and mentors who guide me, providing insight, tools and opportunities. I do none of this alone and am so lucky to have them on this fantastic journey that’s only just begun.

What do you do for fun: I love field trip adventures where I photograph for myself and continue to hone my craft in some very cool locations.
