January 19, 2018 - Front Section

Newburyport, MA Hancock Associates opened their new branch at 18 Center St., Suite One. The office is focused on serving clients in northern Essex County and southern New Hampshire and led by Edward Dixon, P.L.S. In addition to providing land surveying, civil engineering and wetland/coastal science services, Hancock's new office will be able to better serve area residents through the use of historical survey records from Pembroke Land Survey Co., that were previously acquired by Hancock Associates.

This extensive collection dates back to 1959 and gives Hancock a unique ability to complete local surveying tasks quickly and cost-effectively.

"The entire staff at the Newburyport branch is excited to join Hancock Associates and now offer our Newburyport and Plum Island area clients with civil engineering and wetland/coastal permitting services," said Ed. "Hancock has an exceptional reputation in the industry and we're looking forward to being part of their continued success."
