CLD | Fuss & O'Neill moves to New London

February 02, 2018 - Northern New England

Raymond Critch,
CLD | Fuss & O'Neill

New London, NH CLD | Fuss & O'Neill, an award-winning New England engineering firm, is moving from its Sunapee office to a new office.

The New London office is the base for many of their northern New England land survey projects. CLD | Fuss & O'Neill's survey team provides unique solutions to complex multi-discipline projects. Accurate land surveying is an integral step in any successful land development, remediation, traffic, or landscape project.

Their new location is located at The Gallery Condominium 214, 276 Newport Rd.

Raymond Critch oversees the day-to-day operations and brings over 30 years of experience as a licensed land surveyor. He is responsible for performing and overseeing all aspects of survey and septic system design as well as estimating, quality control, procedural adherence, and scheduling. Prior to joining Fuss & O'Neill, Critch had established his survey firm and worked for engineering and surveying firms focusing primarily on large-scale residential subdivisions.
