Peabody Properties begins leasing at Lincoln Park

February 09, 2018 - Front Section

Dartmouth, MA According to Peabody Properties, leasing is underway for immediate occupancy of its final phase plan for the former Lincoln Amusement Park site into a community of 126 apartment homes.

“In this particularly tough housing market, affordability has become a real issue, particularly for our senior population,” said John McKee, regional operations director for Peabody Properties. “This is an excellent opportunity, for residents 55+ to live in a community where they can enjoy carefree days with endless entertainment possibilities all around.”

Income limits apply for this affordable 55+ rental opportunity and there are openings for the two-bedroom apartments at 60% of AMI. Income limits for one person at 60% AMI is $26,460; for two people, $30,240.

Interest has been strong for this once-iconic Lincoln Amusement Park location, which enjoys many wonderful community amenities including fitness center, laundry care suite, community lounge retreat and the best of Dartmouth right outside your door. Landscaping around the property incorporates the area’s natural habitats with plenty of outdoor green space.

Located in close proximity to supermarkets, pharmacies, retail shopping, restaurants and the nearby Dartmouth seashore, residents can experience a sense of neighborhood and community.
