DePersia joins CSG as senior project manager

March 16, 2018 - Connecticut

West Hartford, CT According to Construction Solutions Group (CSG) Karen DePersia has joined as senior project manager. DePersia has over 30 years experience in architecture, design, project management and construction.

DePersia attended Syracuse University and received a bachelor of fine arts degree in Interior Design. Her comprehensive experience as an owner's project manager at Capital Region Education Council (CREC) lends itself perfectly to the functions she will be responsible for at CSG, providing oversight of all phases of construction including planning, design, pre-construction, construction, close-out, move management and Furniture, Fixtures & Equipment (FF&E).

"We are extremely pleased to have Karen join our growing team," said CSG owner and president Jim Giuliano. "Her strong background in design and construction administration allows her to hit the ground running."
