He created lifelong professional and personal friendships that his family will cherish forever. CCIM members have been D'Amico's extended family and continue to offer their support. D'Amico recently fulfilled a personal dream to work in New York City. As executive vice president of corporate development and strategic relations with Xceligent he was based in the New York City office on Madison Ave. They too became like family to him.

D'Amico graduated NYU with a B.A. in Real Estate and Finance and was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He was a member of two different Rotary Clubs for over 25 years, where he served on multiple committees helping to raise thousands of dollars for those in need.
