Who or what has been the strongest influence on your career and why?

Starting off in the industry seven years ago, I had no concept of the dynamics in commercial real estate. Bob Horvath and Todd Tremblay have taught me the fundamentals and have showed me the hard work and dedication that it takes to make a successful career. We have grown our firm over the past three years and have become one of the leading commercial real estate firms. Each day they strive to be the best in the industry. Their dedication has influenced me to achieve my best every day to help our firm become successful. Our office's collaborative culture allows us all to work together and become stronger as a company.
