Mills joins DiPrete Engineering as project engineer

October 12, 2018 - Rhode Island

Skyler Mills, DiPrete Engineering

Cranston, RI DiPrete Engineering has named its newest team member and project engineer, Skyler Mills. A licensed professional engineer in both R.I. and Mass., Mills has worked as a senior engineer for Turino Group, The Maguire Group, and Northeast Engineers & Consultants, Inc.

Mills has also worked as an adjunct professor at the University of Rhode Island teaching AutoCAD and drafting for civil engineers.

“Skyler has proven a strong work ethic throughout his career,” said Eric Prive, senior project manager at DiPrete Engineering. “His extensive industry experience will be an added resource to our team. We are very happy to have him on board.”
