CATIC named one of the “Top Work Places in 2018” in Connecticut by The Hartford Courant

October 19, 2018 - Connecticut

Rocky Hill, CT CATIC, one of the country’s largest Bar-Related title insurance underwriter, has been named one of the “Top Work Places in 2018” in Connecticut by The Hartford Courant.

At CATIC, their core values (Customer Focused, Accountability, Teamwork, Inspire, and Community) are the foundation that supports their mission and builds their success, and the success of their agents. They are committed to always demonstrating their values to their employees, agents, and business partners.

“It is an honor to be recognized as a great place to work by our employees and The Hartford Courant,” said James Czapiga, Esq., CATIC’s president and CEO. “Our employees work hard each day to provide superior customer service to our real estate industry partners. CATIC is committed to providing an environment where we are equally committed to our employees.”

The Hartford Courant compiles its Top Work Places award recipients based on employee survey results from hundreds of companies in the state.

The award honors companies that allow their employees to thrive in a collaborative and supportive environment.
