Franklin Savings Bank presents Tilton-Northfield Recreation Center with Richard W. DuBois Community Impact Award

November 02, 2018 - Northern New England

Franklin, NH Franklin Savings Bank presented the Tilton-Northfield Recreation Center with the Richard W. DuBois Community Impact Award at the 6th Annual Fund for Community Advancement Celebration, which was held on October 3rd at the Lochmere Country Club. The bank also presented a $3,500 grant to the group to assist with building a homework room and reading area for kids enrolled in their after school and summer programs.

“Providing our support to projects like this that focus on the educational enrichment of our youth is very important to us,” said Ron Magoon, president & CEO. “We always look for ways in which we can assist community groups with providing the critical resources to aid in the development of children, so they can gain the skills needed to excel academically.”

Established in 2014, the Richard W. DuBois Community Impact Award is presented annually at the FSB Fund for Community Advancement Celebration to honor a grant which has significant impact in Franklin or a surrounding community. The award was created to recognize retired FSB president & CEO Dick DuBois for his civic contributions to Franklin and the greater region. FSB has honored four other community groups with this award, including Paul Smith School (2014), Patriot Resilient Leader Institute (2015), Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Franklin (2016), and The Franklin Outing Club (2017).
