The Sustainable Business Community - What's going on?

July 23, 2008 - Green Buildings

If you are looking for Green Building resources, come on and stop by the NEXUS Green Building Resource Center in downtown Boston. NEXUS is a project of The Green Roundtable - providing free resources, events and a wealth of information on green building and sustainable design to the general public and the building industry. NEXUS' 9,000 s/f showroom and learning center feature exhibition space for green products and technologies, an extensive library with books and computer resources, an inviting space for networking and events, and a friendly and knowledgeable staff. Find out more at www.nexusboston.com.

Attend green building and LEED related events at NEXUS and throughout the community!
