2019 Women in Construction: Leslie Del Sesto, Assistant Project Manager at PROCON

March 29, 2019 - Spotlights

“I have never felt like the only ‘female’ in the room at our company because there is such tremendous respect for everyone, male or female,” said Leslie Del Sesto. Del Sesto worked at PROCON for 5 years before leaving to raise her children. She later returned, but on a slightly condensed schedule.

“I always knew that if I returned to construction, it would have to be at PROCON. I get to drop off and pick up my kids daily. It is not unusual for me to discuss a project on the phone while driving them around. It shows my kids that I have another important job besides being their mom, and I really appreciate that PROCON allows me to do that,” she said.
