Tighe & Bond climbs 19 spots in national ENR Top 500 design firms

May 31, 2019 - Spotlights

Westfield, MA Tighe & Bond, one of the leading full-service engineering and environmental consulting firms in the northeastern United States, climbed 19 spots this year to No. 222 on Engineering News Record's (ENR) 2019 Top 500 Design Firms ranking. In the past two years, Tighe & Bond climbed 38 spots as the firm continues to grow its regional market. ENR ranks its list of top 500 design firms nationally based on design-specific revenue from the previous year.

"We are very excited to climb 19 spots in this national ranking, which we believe is the result of continuing to execute on our strategies of expanding in our regional markets along with attracting and retaining outstanding staff across the organization," said Bob Belitz, president and CEO of Tighe & Bond. "Of course, we could not achieve these accomplishments without the trust our clients have in us to work on their behalf and deliver superb project outcomes."

An employee-owned firm, Tighe & Bond is invested in its clients' successes. In business for over a century, the firm continues to evolve to keep pace with client needs. Vision, technical expertise, exceptional service and strong client relationships have always been at its forefront.

Tighe & Bond, Inc. provides comprehensive engineering and environmental services to hundreds of public and private clients across the northeastern U.S., with emphasis on the education, energy, government, healthcare, industrial, real estate, and water/wastewater markets. A staff of 370+ work from offices in Middletown and Shelton, Conn.; Westwood, Pocasset, Worcester and Westfield, Mass.; Portsmouth, New Hampshire; Rhinebeck, N.Y., and Providence, R.I.

Engineering News Record ranks Tighe & Bond a top 10 New England design firm, a top 500 national design firm, and a top 200 environmental firm. Building Design+Construction also ranks Tighe & Bond one of the top 60 engineering firms in the United States, and Zweig Group has recognized Tighe & Bond numerous times as a best engineering firm to work for in the United States.
