Market Square Architects hires Castaldo as a senior project architect in Portsmouth

July 19, 2019 - Front Section

Christine Castaldo

Portsmouth, NH Market Square Architects PLLC (MSA) has hired Christine Castaldo, AIA, LEED as a senior project architect. Castaldo has 30 years of experience in the field and most recently served as a principal at a large regional firm. While there, she focused on senior living and military housing, completing projects across the eastern seaboard.

The firm is excited to add Castaldo's years of knowledge, design creativity and the ability to integrate sustainable solutions to an already multi-talented team. She will play a role on several new projects and have a leadership role within the firm. Her years of experience will be utilized in the firm's quality management processes in all project types.

MSA is headquartered at the Kearsarge House at 104 Congress St. and has a second office in Austin, TX. From these locations, they serve clients throughout the New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the southwest. MSA has been recognized as one of the region's fastest growing firms and is working across a wide range of project types including; multi-family, senior living, banking, educational, institutional, healthcare, commercial, industrial, hospitality and custom residential.
