Boston MA WS Development and the Seaport has introduced a new winter entertainment destination in Boston: Snowport Winter Village in Partnership with Fjällräven and Capital One Café. The facility debuted December 5th, and is open through February.

By mid December, Snowport Winter Village will serve freshly baked waffles by The Waffle Cabin. Snowport Winter Village spans over 7,000 s/f in total and is located at 65 Northern Ave.

“As our largest and most dynamic public activation yet, Snowport Winter Village creates an entirely new gathering place in Seaport. Snowport Winter Village will provide ample opportunities to experience the season, offering ice skating for families and neighbors; seasonal food and beverage to enjoy with friends; and winter games for all ages. Our hope is to offer an open, welcoming, and festive new destination for the whole neighborhood to enjoy.” said Yanni Tsipis, senior vice president, Seaport, WS Development.

“We often talk about how ‘nature is waiting’ at Fjällräven and our company mission is to inspire people to walk with nature. With our Seaport partnership, we are inspiring a bit of skating as well,” said Nathan Dopp, president of Fjällräven Americas and vice president of Fenix Outdoor International AG. “This is the perfect opportunity to get people outside during Boston’s winter months, to embrace the cold and to enjoy time with friends and family. Fjällräven is a brand created by a team of people who are absolute experts on the cold – our products are designed and tested north of the Arctic Circle in Sweden. We are thrilled with the interest New England continues to show Fjällräven, and we look forward to engaging our fans and community at Snowport this winter.”

“Capital One Café strives to be deeply interconnected with the communities we serve. We believe strong communities and strong businesses go hand-in-hand. That’s why we partner with local businesses within our Cafés and strong communities like the one we have here in Boston’s Seaport,” said Dan Shertzer, Capital One market executive.
