Golon of TFMoran honored

February 21, 2020 - Construction Design & Engineering

Nicholas Golon,
TFMoran

Bedford, NH TFMoran senior project manager, Nicholas Golon, PE was recognized by the New Hampshire Union Leader as one of the state's standout young professionals on January 27th in a 2020 Class of 40 Under Forty special edition. Golon was featured as one of the 40 best and brightest young leaders in New Hampshire for his work as a civil engineer and for his community involvement.

Golon joined TFMoran in 2006 and is a licensed Professional Engineer in the states of New Hampshire and Maine. His engineering background includes a diverse cross-section of projects ranging from the residential and the commercial market to industrial and energy applications. His history of successfully managing fast-paced multi-discipline projects provides a strategic benefit to any project team.

Golon also serves on the American Society of Civil Engineers-New Hampshire Section board of directors and has participated in the ASCE Legislative Fly-In program in Washington, DC. He recently helped ASCE-NH raise $15,000 for the Scholarship Fund for current and prospective New Hampshire engineering students. Golon gives back to his community in many ways including volunteering on numerous non-profit organizations and mentoring New Hampshire students interested in science, engineering and construction.

A reception to honor the 2020 Class of 40 Under Forty is scheduled for March 18th at the Grappone Center in Concord.
