The entry hall is decorated with an inlay hardwood design and has a central staircase that connects all three floors of the home. Fireplaces adorn the abutting front-to-back living room, dining room, and library. The chef's kitchen features stone countertops, and appliances. The family room is illuminated by a wall of windows that face the yard, with deck. On the second level, is a master suite with a private marble bath with a spa shower. Two more suites are on this floor, along with a home office, while three additional bedrooms, a rec room, and a full bath reside on the top floor.
