Construction Institute names speakers for Visionaries Forum

September 18, 2020 - Connecticut

Dr. Ibrahim Odeh

Phil Bernstein

Stephen Brown

Howard Carsman

Melodie Yashar

East Hartford, CT The Construction Institute announced panelists for its 11th Annual Visionaries Forum – A Virtual Event to be held September 30th, 4:00-6:00 p.m. This event is open to the public.

This year's panelists will explore the intersection between technology and people. Among the panelists are experts in designing and building on Mars, using leading technology to create digitally integrated project delivery methods, designing WELL buildings to support our human needs, and using innovative conflict prevention techniques to improve project performance. This is the cutting edge of our industry.

The Institute is honored to announce that this forum will be moderated by Dr. Ibrahim Odeh, founding director, global leaders in construction management for Columbia University. He will be joined by these industry leaders:

Phil Bernstein, Associate dean and professor adjunct, Yale School of Architecture;
Stephen Brown, vice president global market development, WELL AP;
Howard Carsman, global construction claims manager, Intel Corp.; and Melodie Yashar, co-founder, Space Exploration Architecture.

Construction Institute invites members to share some of their own “visionary” projects with the A/E/C industry professionals. An area of the Visionaries Forum website will post virtual display boards for attendees to see and read, showcasing your innovative work!

To reserve your spot, simply sponsor a virtual display board. Once you reserve your spot, you can email your display board to admin@construction.org.

Virtual display boards should be either PDF or PNG format, 8.5” x 11” in size, and submitted no later than Wednesday, September 23. Reserve your spot now!

The Construction Institute is a nonprofit organization of diverse AEC professionals dedicated to creating a learning and dynamic industry landscape. To learn more about the Institute and to register for the program go to construction.org.
