Wanted: Commercial investment real estate industry videos

September 11, 2008 - Front Section

There is no denying the boom that commercial real estate videos are seeing throughout the industry. Whether you're viewing a company's website, blog, city, state or government website chances are you will see a video of some sorts on it. It is the natural progression of the internet, if a picture is worth a thousand words then what's a video worth, a million words? If commercial real estate is all about location, location, location, then video is the best way to showcase a location other than actually being there.

At Rejournal.com we have some very unique videos of commercial real estate organizations and association's presidents, chair members, founders etc... being interviewed by the publishers of the New England and New York Real Estate Journals. The videos are chock full of information on the origins, mission statements and special events of a given organization and/or association.

We encourage you to submit your videos, five minutes or less. They can be about your company, a project, a sale or lease, your organization, a current event or anything relevant to the commercial investment real estate industry. Send anything, and if we deem it interesting, we will place it on Rejournal.com for free. Go to either the New England or New York homepage of Rejournal.com and click on the "Submit your Video" link on the left side of the video player.

The videos and video upload process on Rejournal.com are powered by Commercial Real Estate Community TV - www.cremunity.tv, a video website for the commercial real estate industry where individuals now have a place to upload their videos to a site that is dedicated to their industry.
