Gienapp Architects hires Kelley as architectural designer draftsperson

May 07, 2021 - Owners Developers & Managers

Samantha Kelley

Danvers, MA According to Gienapp Architects, Samantha Kelley has joined the firm as an architectural designer draftsman. Kelley has a master of Architecture and bachelor of science in Architecture with minors in Sustainability and Art and Architectural History from Roger Williams University. She is currently working towards her license in architecture. She will be assisting the firm with the development of AutoCAD and Revit drawings and pre-design studies.

“I love working on a variety of different projects that are at different design and development stages and learning from other employees. I found that and more at Gienapp Architects,” said Kelley. “I am excited to be on the team.”

“Samantha impressed us with her portfolio and solid skill base. We are delighted to have her on board,” said Gienapp Architects Principal, Dale Gienapp, AIA. “We’ve hired a number of Roger Williams graduates over the years, and have found them to be consistently well-prepared for a career in architecture.”
