Todd Nordblom promoted to president of Nordblom Company

August 27, 2021 - Front Section

Burlington, MA According to Nordblom Company, Todd Nordblom was promoted to company president. In his new role, he will oversee all Nordblom Company's investment and development activity as well as investor relations and marketing.

Todd has been with the company since 2014 and most recently served as senior vice president, where he oversaw many aspects of Nordblom's residential investment and development projects.

"It is an exciting opportunity for both Todd and the company as we continue to evolve our vision and practices in such a dynamic business environment," said Og Hunnewell, executive vice president and member, board of directors.

Accompanying the news is the announcement of Peter Nordblom's transition from long-time company president to chairman of the board. Peter will remain active in strategic planning, financing, and asset management.

"While we have a long company history, our culture is very forward looking by design. Over the last few years, we've seen a new generation of talented people join and grow with Nordblom. They are well poised to help define the future of real estate in greater Boston for the coming decades," Peter Nordblom added.

In the new role, Todd will continue to collaborate with the company's highly capable senior management team, which has an average tenure of over 20 years.

"Nordblom Company is a powerful platform for advancing not only our vision for real estate, but also enriching the lives of those served through our projects," remarked Todd. "This includes our investors and communities, as well as our employees. I am humbled by the opportunity to play a leading role in guiding these visions going forward, while remaining committed to the many stakeholders that have helped define our success over the years."
