Groom Construction Co., Inc.

What led you to your current profession? My career started as an Interior Designer in architectural firms where I evolved into a project manager. With my time spent at construction sites and working with budgets I wanted to be more involved in the projects being built and transitioned into the construction field. As an estimator, I enjoy the opportunities to learn new things each day and the challenges of bidding. I love working with a team and playing an integral role in the construction process.
