Sasha Bogdanovics

Kendra Hardesty

Portland, ME The Boulos Company welcomes two new employees: associate Sasha Bogdanovics and marketing & administrative assistant Kendra Hardesty.

Bogdanovics relocated to Portland from Jackson, Wyoming, where she worked for four years in a client-facing role, managing short-term vacation rentals. She brings extensive experience in on-site research, marketing, and onboarding properties to the Boulos team.

Hardesty is a seasoned commercial real estate professional, with years of experience providing administrative support, as well as marketing and database management for firms such as Leggett & Platt and SERVPRO.

“Real estate professionals are among the influx of folks who have been moving to Maine recently,” said Christopher Stephenson, VP of operations & marketing at Boulos.

“We have had a few great opportunities to add both independent contractors, associates, and marketers to our team who are new to the market, but have great commercial real estate experience. As Maine’s largest commercial real estate brokerage, with experts in property types across the industry, we are well-positioned to train CRE professionals on the nuances of this market. We couldn’t be more excited to welcome Sasha and Kendra to the team.”
