2022 Women in Construction: Tetiana Likhanova, Architectural Job Captain at Jewett Construction

March 25, 2022 - Spotlights

Tetiana Likhanova

What was your greatest professional achievement or most notable project in the last 12 months? During this year I've transitioned from working in a branding agency as an architectural visualizer to my current position as architectural job captain at Jewett Construction. This is an exciting change for me, as I was looking to work in an architectural studio since I've moved to the United States a couple of years ago. I am very happy to combine my many skills in one place. I like diving deep into code analysis and material research, designing spaces, then shooting drone videos and rendering animations – all that helps to make the projects successful for clients.

Starting out in the construction business, who or what empowered you? I am very happy to be working alongside my project manager Lori Smith – an architect with 30 years of experience and many years in a design-build setting, who never gets tired of answering my questions and appreciates my visualization skills
