Walker Dev. launches new website to align with growth and vision

August 05, 2022 - Front Section

Marlborough, MA Walker Development & Construction Management, Inc. has launched a brand refresh and new website, bringing the firm in alignment with their respected growth and vision for years to come.

“To stay aligned with our company’s core identity and award-winning services and solutions, we elevated our brand to highlight our multifaceted approach which positions our clients to be the best in their businesses.” said Jeff Walker, CEO and principal of Walker Development. “We really aim to make our client’s lives easier and approach our projects to set our clients up for success right from the start.”

Walker Development’s expert team offers specialized knowledge in real estate, construction, strategic partnerships, building, investment development and project management.

The new interactive website connects clients and partners with the Walker culture, its mission, purpose and values along with the importance of relationships.

“We know that our most important asset is our relationships with our employees, our clients, and the professionals we work with on every project and the new website shares this commitment and our story perfectly,” said Walker.
