Bourassa joins North Branch Construction as safety director

February 16, 2024 - Construction Design & Engineering

Holly Bourassa

Concord, NH North Branch Construction has welcomed Holly Bourassa as the firm's new safety director. Bourassa joins North Branch upon the retirement of the former safety director, Rich LeVinus. Bourassa brings over eight years of safety experience to the role. Bourassa will be responsible for managing all aspects of North Branch's safety program, including weekly jobsite visits, establishing worksite safety plans, and employee training.

"North Branch Construction is dedicated to doing everything we can to maximize jobsite safety. Holly brings a wealth of education and experience implementing and monitoring jobsite safety programs and training that is sure to serve our employees and company well," said Joseph Campbell, President.
