Real Estate Finance Association springs ahead with programming

March 08, 2024 - Financial Digest

Boston, MA The Real Estate Finance Association finished a busy month with their 8th Annual Mentor Program kick-off event on February 28th featuring 60 mentor/mentee pairs. The REFA Mentor Program provides Emerging Leader Members with the opportunity to be paired with a senior-level member for a year-long membership. REFA organizes 3-4 events throughout the calendar year to bring all participants together. Mentor/mentee pairs are encouraged to connect regularly throughout the program to share ideas, career advice, and act as sounding boards to help with career and professional development.

MBA Recap & Boston's Lending Environment

March 5th, 12:00 – 1:15p.m., Holland & Knight; 10 St. James Ave., 11th Floor, Boston

Mortgage Bankers Association held its annual conference in mid-February, bringing together lenders, investors and mortgage bankers from around the country to discuss goals and expectations for 2024. REFA hosted a sold-out program, MBA Recap & Boston's Lending Environment to discuss different capital sources providing key takeaways from the conference and what lender sentiment means for Boston this year. The panel was led by industry experts Thomas Welch, executive vice president, Colliers International; Michael Chase, managing director, Northmarq; Aiden Hume, senior vice president, Cambridge Savings Bank; Christopher LaBianca, managing director, Natixis Corporate & Investment Banking; and Marilyn Mawn, managing director, Fidelity Investments.

REFA's Innovation Committee will be hosting an exclusive tour of Suffolk Technology on March 19th. The tour group will hear from the vice president of Platform, Parker Mundt, about Suffolk's commitment to leveraging technology and creativity to enhance project efficiency, sustainability, and client satisfaction. Suffolk emphasizes their use of cutting-edge tools like virtual reality, drones, and artificial intelligence to streamline processes, improve safety, and deliver high-quality results. After the tour, attendees are welcome to stay for Suffolk's panel discussion, AI + Design in the Build Environment.
