What has been the driving force behind your success in the AEC industry? Finding the right company to work for with a team that provides the support you need to have successful projects, trust in your capabilities, and pushes you to do your best. I'm very lucky to have found my work family at JC&A. I have spent 17+ years with wonderful people, working on exciting projects, meeting clients that you want to work with again and again. Most of all you have to trust in yourself, not compromise your values, and find something you love even on the tough days.
