One-bedroom and two-bedroom units featuring Juliet balconies and French doors, will range in size and scope, with dozens of unique floor plans offered. Future residents of One Wingate Way East will share a collective campus with existing Wingate communities and will have access to amenities such as an indoor heated saltwater pool and fitness center, underground parking garage, salon and spa services, and gourmet dining featuring a display kitchen.

“Our vision for One Wingate Way East is to create a vibrant and active environment for older adults in a luxury, boutique setting with easy access to all the lifestyle amenities and services they need to remain healthy, engaged and fulfilled,” said Alexandra Schuster, president of Wingate Living. “We always strive to do ‘senior living’ differently and better, and we cannot wait to introduce our latest project to the Needham community.”

Residents will also find outdoor electric car chargers, a green roof in select areas, and LED lighting, both inside and out. Additionally, the property will include Energy Star appliances, water-saving fixtures, and low-flow toilets, shower heads, and faucets.

The leasing gallery for One Wingate Way East is now officially open for future residents to schedule private consultations and learn more about residency options. Priority deposits are now being accepted for unit selection. One Wingate Way East will be an entrance fee model determined by size, location, and unit type.

One Wingate Way East will be owned and operated by Ginger Care, Inc., a 501(c)(3) nonprofit corporation, and managed by Wingate Living. WL Development will serve as the developer.
