2024 Ones to Watch - Rising Stars: James Holland, Redgate

June 28, 2024 - Spotlights

James Holland
Project Manager

“James consistently establishes himself as a trusted client advisor through strong communication and focus on fostering positive team dynamics. James always strives for continuous improvement to develop into a better leader. He sets a great example with his positive attitude, team mentality, work ethic, and desire to make an impact.” - Alex Dubanowitz, EVP at Redgate.

In the last 12 months what accomplishment are you most proud of? I’m most proud of the successful completion of opening several new offices for one of my clients, Transformations Care Network. The projects that I managed consisted of four offices in Maryland and Virginia, with many more to come in the Greater Boston area and other regions. My client’s mission is to deliver timely access to high-quality psychiatry and therapy services, and I’m proud to be a part of the successful opening of these offices.

How do you balance your rising career with your personal life? Despite it being difficult to step away from a full workload and always wanting to provide 24/7 high-quality service to my clients, I have found it important to set boundaries and disconnect. I like to recharge my battery by traveling with my girlfriend, playing with our puppy, or spending time with my family and friends!
