Leasing momentum continues at John Flatley Company's Nashua Technology Park

January 10, 2025 - Northern New England

Nashua, NH With a busy second half of the year at the Nashua Technology Park, the John Flatley Company welcomed four new tenants and accommodated two existing tenant expansions, totaling 80,000 s/f for the year.

New tenants include, Antenna Research Associates and Solutions Review at 100 Innovative Way, while Farm Design and E-CON AI leased space at 200 Innovative Way. In addition, the John Flatley Company assisted Drut Technology, and a long-standing tenant, Amphenol, in expanding their footprints.

As companies return to the office, the Nashua Technology Park presents an option with location and amenities. Located off of Exit 1 at the Mass./N.H. border, the 750,000 s/f Nashua Technology Park offers a variety of amenities from its on-site health club, full-service café, conference room facilities, and athletic fields, as well as Spyglass Brewing Company, Pressed Café, the Tara Heights Apartments, Amelia Village townhomes, Homewood Suites, and Nashua Self Storage.

Founded in 1985, the John Flatley Company owns and operates office, research and development complexes, retail centers, warehouse/flex buildings, self storage facilities, and apartment communities throughout New England.
