Turner named president of Margulies Perruzzi

January 24, 2025 - Front Section

Nathan Turner

Boston, MA Margulies Perruzzi (MP) has promoted Nathan Turner, AIA, LEED AP to president. This appointment recognizes Turner's over 25 years of dedication to the firm, leadership, and commitment to advancing MP's mission of creating tailored built environments that promote client success and support their employees and the communities they serve.

In his new role, Turner will continue to work closely with the firm's partners, Daniel Perruzzi, AIA, LEED AP, Janet Morra, AIA, LEED AP, Caitlin Greenwood, AIA, and Jenna Meyers, IIDA, NCIDQ, LEED AP to manage the firm. Turner will oversee projects, manage staff and client relations, and drive the firm forward.

"Margulies Perruzzi has always been focused on designing with purpose for the human experience, and we are passionate about our staff, our clients, and our dedication to giving back to our local community," said Perruzzi.

"Nate exemplifies these values and will continue the firm's growth to keep up with the ever-changing needs of our clients."

"I am honored to lead Margulies Perruzzi and take this responsibility seriously," said Nathan Turner. "Having been with the firm for the past 25 years, I have had the unique opportunity to witness its evolution through various challenges and successes. I look forward to continuing the important work of fostering innovation, empowering our team, and leading by example."

Turner shared his vision, saying, "MP will remain true to the values on which we were built almost 37 years ago. I will continue to collaborate closely with our partners to ensure we provide thoughtful architecture and interior design, focusing on relationships we have built locally that have expanded our opportunities nationally. Together, we will support this step forward to ensure that MP is not only set up for success now but also in the future, remaining a trusted partner."
