Johnson named vice president of business development for Sullivan Construction

April 04, 2025 - Northern New England

Logan Johnson

Bedford, NH Sullivan Construction has appointed Logan Johnson, PE as vice president of business development. In this role, Johnson will spearhead the company's growth initiatives, fostering client relationships and identifying new market opportunities that align with the company's core values.

Johnson brings over 15 years of experience in the construction and engineering sectors, with a proven track record in business development and project management. Before joining Sullivan Construction, she worked for the non-profit NeighborWorks Southern New Hampshire, where she managed the development of over 200 units of affordable housing for N.H. families.

A licensed professional engineer, Johnson earned her Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Her technical expertise, combined with her strategic vision and compassion for her community, positions Johnson as an asset to Sullivan Construction's executive team.

"We are thrilled to welcome Logan to our leadership team," said Tom Sullivan Jr., president of Sullivan Construction. "Logan's extensive experience and industry insights will be pivotal as we continue to expand our services and strengthen our client partnerships."

Johnson is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, serving as a past president of the N.H. section board of directors, a past Region 1 director, and chair of the 2017 Infrastructure Report Card. She is also committed to community involvement, serving as an alternate member to the Bedford Planning Board & member of their Housing Working Group subcommittee; is an active member for NeighborWorks Project Committee; and she coaches travel softball for the N.H. Lightning and recreationally for Bedford girls softball league.
