True Storage to open new CubeSmart-managed self-storage facility in Dracut, Mass.

May 09, 2025 - Front Section

Dracut, MA True Storage will be opening of a newly constructed, self-storage facility located at 55 Loon Hill Rd. The all-new class A facility will open its doors in May 2025, offering 70,425 rentable s/f of premium storage space and 807 climate-controlled units.

The property was developed and is owned by True Storage, a national self-storage developer known for high-quality construction and community-conscious design. The facility will be operated by CubeSmart.

This ground-up development represents True Storage's approach to self-storage combining clean, modern design with secure features such as climate-controlled interiors, video surveillance, keypad-controlled access, and interior loading areas.

“Dracut is a vibrant and growing community, and we’re proud to deliver a facility that matches the needs of its residents and businesses,” said a representative from True Storage. “This new construction is not just about storage, it’s about setting a new standard for quality, safety, and convenience.”

The new facility will offer a wide range of unit sizes, ideal for everything from seasonal storage to small business inventory.

This project marks another milestone in True Storage’s national footprint, with developments completed in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Georgia, Florida, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, New York, Ohio, Michigan, and Kentucky, and dozens more in development across the U.S.
