Synergy hires Molloy as leasing manager

July 04, 2025 - Owners Developers & Managers

Carolyn Molloy

Boston, MA Synergy, a leading real estate investor, operator, and manager, has appointed Carolyn Molloy as leasing manager. In this role, Molloy will play a key part in advancing Synergy's recent leasing momentum, overseeing transactions, and expanding the company's tenant base across its growing portfolio.

Molloy brings 17 years of commercial real estate experience to Synergy. She most recently served as director of office leasing at WS Development, where she led leasing efforts across office, industrial, lab, and medical office properties nationwide. During her tenure, she launched new medical office clusters and maximized value in lifestyle centers.

Prior to WS Development, Carolyn spent over a decade at Lincoln Property Company, contributing to both Downtown and Suburban Leasing teams.

An active member of NAIOP and CREW, Carolyn also holds a Massachusetts Real Estate License. She has served as an Adjunct Professor of Real Estate Finance at Providence College and remains actively engaged with the college's alumni community.

Carolyn holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Management from Providence College and currently resides in Belmont, MA, with her husband.

"Carolyn's depth of experience and strategic mindset make her an invaluable asset to our team," said Jim Grady, Senior Vice President of Leasing at Synergy. "Her proven ability to drive leasing performance and create long-term value aligns perfectly with our goals for continued portfolio growth."

"I'm thrilled to join Synergy's accomplished team," said Carolyn Molloy. "I look forward to contributing to the company's success by identifying new opportunities, strengthening tenant relationships, and navigating an evolving real estate landscape with focus and innovation."

With this strategic hire, Synergy continues to strengthen its leadership team and position itself for sustained expansion in the commercial real estate market.
