Atwater and Lavigne form Choice Management and Leasing

December 31, 2008 - Northern New England

Thomas Lavigne and Richard Atwater Jr. have formed Choice Management and Leasing LLC. While focusing primarily on commercial property management and leasing, the services offered by the firm are diverse and include: project supervision and management, construction management and development, vendor selection and lease analysis.

With a combined experience of more than 50 years in the industry, both principals are enthusiastic about the prospects for the company.

"This really is an exciting opportunity" said Atwater. "There's a distinct need in the industry right now for quality management services offered at a fair price, and that's the whole principle this company was founded on. I think it's an approach that will really resonate with clients who are looking for more of a partnership in the success of their real estate holdings"

"I think our fresh approach is exactly what clients are looking for" agrees Lavigne. "The fact that we've already signed a number of significant clients is a testament to that. Especially in an economic climate like this, people are really watching their bottom lines and that's where we can be of tremendous value to them. Because of our diverse backgrounds we offer a complete suite of quality services without the huge overhead of bigger firms."
