North Branch completes NH Public Radio studio

February 04, 2009 - Northern New England

North Branch Construction, Inc. has completed construction of the new broadcast studios for New Hampshire Public Radio. The sixth floor at 2 Pillsbury St. has been transformed from an open 20,000 s/f space to a state of the art broadcast studio, which features an isolated core space for broadcasting surrounded by conference rooms and other office support areas.

Special features of the construction isolate the core area from the rest of the building by means of a floating layered floor (suspended on isolation blocks) and vibration isolation springs supporting the suspended ceiling.

C.N. Carley Associates provided the design for the project.
