IREM presents virtual seminar series - Solutions for Success with Troubled Assets

April 15, 2009 - Connecticut

A virtual seminar series titled Six Solutions for Success with Troubled Assets will be presented on consecutive Thursdays which started on April 2nd and will continue until May 14th by the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM). Each session in the seven-seminar series, developed jointly by IREM and the CCIM Institute, will run for one-hour, with registration available for individual or multiple sessions.

The series is a uniquely valuable and timely skill-building experience for real estate industry practitioners at all experience levels, with content that address the evolution of the current financial crises, actual property scenarios and, most importantly, six potential solutions to managing troubled real estate assets in today's volatile marketplace. It also highlights techniques for generating new troubled-asset-related business in these challenging economic times.
