Acella Construction completes 4,500 s/f at Education Tech Ctr.

May 06, 2009 - Spotlights

Acella Construction Corporation recently completed a 4,500 s/f renovation of the Education Technology Center at the Snell Library at the Northeastern University.

The renovated space includes a new wall configuration that created individual offices for the staff. The new space, which features a dirt wall system throughout, also has a kitchenette, training lab, resource library, digital media suite, and recording studio. The space will be used to train staff on how to utilize technology for teaching.
