99 High St. among 13 Jones Lang LaSalle managed properties earning EPA's ENERGY STAR award

June 11, 2009 - Spotlights

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has recognized the top performing buildings in New England by awarding its prestigious ENERGY STAR, the national symbol for superior energy efficiency and environmental protection. Thirteen properties managed by Jones Lang LaSalle earned the honor. The properties are: 99 High, 73 Tremont St., and One Financial Center in Boston; One Charles Park, 2 Canal Park, 125 CambridgePark Dr. and 150 CambridgePark Dr. in Cambridge; 55 Hayden Ave. in Lexington; 110 Westboro Executive Park, 112 Westboro Executive Park, 114 Westboro Executive Park, and One Research Dr. in Westborough; and Bank of New York Mellon in Everett. "With over 18 million s/f of commercial property throughout New England, Jones Lang LaSalle has risen to the challenge," said Peter DeLuca, managing director of Jones Lang LaSalle.
