Laura Rogan of BPG Properties. Ltd., earns Certified Property Manager designation from IREM

June 24, 2009 - Front Section

According to BPG Management Co., L.P., the property management arm of BPG Properties, Ltd., Laura Rogan, the firm's regional portfolio for the Boston area, has earned her Certified Property Manager (CPM) designation from the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM).

IREM is an international organization that provides education, resources, information and membership for real estate management professionals. It is the only professional real estate management association serving both multi family and commercial real estate sectors with over 80 U.S. chapters and eight international chapters.

In her role as regional portfolio manager, Rogan oversees the firm's property management staff and is responsible for the operations of BPG's 1.2 million s/f office portfolio, located in downtown and the surrounding suburbs.

Prior to joining BPG in November 2008, Rogan was a general manager with Jones Lang LaSalle. She has completed her Real Property Administrator designation and is a member of the Building Owners and Management Association (BOMA), the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties (NAIOP), IREM and the Commercial Real Estate Development Association.
