Sullivan to renovate PET NET Solutions nuclear pharmacy facility

September 15, 2009 - Construction Design & Engineering

PET NET Solutions, a SIEMENS Company of Knoxville, TN has awarded Sullivan Construction Inc. the contract for the renovation of their existing 5,500 s/f Nuclear Pharmacy facility. The Sullivan team, under project manager Bill Frisella, will coordinate with John Brennan & Associates, architects, for the completion of the project.

The scope of the project includes selective demolition, excavation and construction of a new concrete vault to house the second Eclipse Cyclotron as well as mechanical and electrical renovations at their West Cummings Park location. These changes will double the facilities production of nuclear products for the patient scanning & diagnostics industry. Sullivan Const. was able to complete the renovations while enabling the facility to remain in complete operation throughout.
